

Desexing your kitten early is good for them

Did you know?

Your cat can have kittens earlier than you might expect.

Your cat does not need to have litter before she is desexed to be happy.

Early-age desexing is safe for your cat.

So, Why Wait?

Early-age desexing provides the following benefits:

Faster surgical time with less trauma and stress for your kitten.

Fewer complications and faster recovery time.

Decreased risk for mammary cancers.

Elimination of reproductive emergencies.

Decreased behaviour problems which are linked with shelter surrender.

Decreased number of unwanted kittens that end up in shelters.

For more information about SPCA's desexing and microchipping services, visit sPCA.nz.

SPCA[®]

The benefits of desexing your cat.

DECREASE
unwanted litters

INCREASE lifespan by 3-5 years

REDUCE spraying
&
marking

LOWER risk of cancer

DECREASE
aggression

REDUCE
roaming

For more information about SPCA's desexing and microchipping services, visit sPCA.nz.

SPCA[®]

The benefits of desexing your dog.

PREVENT
unwanted litters

LOWER
risk of cancer
& infections

INCREASE
lifespan by 3-5 years

INCREASES
ACCESS to daycares & kennels

COST BENEFIT
for registration

REDUCE
roaming

For more information about SPCA's desexing and microchipping services, visit spca.nz.

SPCA[®]